

HORNER OFFERS PLAN FOR MORE WATER FOR CITY

Supervisor Suggests Special
Artesian System With Big
Cistern as Reservoir

Forseeing long delay and financial as well as legal complications in the scheme to give Nuuanu residents an adequate water supply through tunneling in the hills, Supervisor Robert Horner comes forward as the advocate of a new plan this morning, and it is carried out he declares it will be only a short time before Nuuanu has all the water it wishes.

"At first I favored the idea of tunneling from a 300 foot elevation, but the more I think of it, and now it strikes me as being really unnecessary. In place of doing this tunneling, why not drill for water in the lower levels and pump it up into a concrete cistern."

"This cistern would not have to be so very large. It could be made to preserve absolutely the purity of the water, a concrete floor and sides and a cover. In this way, Nuuanu would get the best possible water and the cost of it all would not be more than $50,000."

"The more I think of this plan the more feasible and desirable it seems. If we tunnel into the hills, no one can even guess the cost of the work. The result may be satisfactory or unsatisfactory. It may cost several hundred thousands of dollars, and with no greater benefit than would be enjoyed in the cheaper and quicker plan."

"And again, it really is out of the question to expect the Nuuanu residents to go without water until the tunnel is completed. In comparatively short time a water well could be drilled, a concrete cistern built and a suitable pump installed to pump the artesian water up into the cistern."

"I think the criticism against the Hawaiian Electric Company using the city water not properly taken. They are paying at the same rate as a common consumer, and there can be no valid objection, so far as I know, to their use of the water. There is a shortage now and they have stopped using it, just as the other consumers have. When the water system is as it should be there will be no shortage at all."

An anti-treating bill, designed to prevent treating in saloons, was introduced in the lower house of the Pennsylvania legislature.

Two memberships of the Chicago Board of Trade were sold at $2900 a reduction of $100 from the last previous sale.

CHICAGO MARKET IS BEING OPENED FOR HAWAII PINE

Territorial Market Division Is Planning to Send Carload
Lots to Middle West

The Territorial Marketing Division expects to begin making carload shipments of Hawaiian pineapples to Chicago in the near future. Superintendent A. T. Longley said today that this new phase of the market's work will commence as soon as arrangements can be made to secure a steady influx of the fruit.

Fifty cases of pineapples are being shipped weekly to San Francisco and Portland, Ore.

"We could send more," says Mr. Longley, "but the growers will not bring in the fruit in spite of the fact that they are getting $25 a ton, net, as against $8 paid by the canneries. If we get the fruit, I expect to see a big trade opened up not only on the Pacific coast but in the eastern states."

Longley says the bottom has dropped out of the island onion market, due to the present large crop in California, and the large quantities of the vegetable in storage. The market will ship no more island onions to the coast until further orders. The onion crop in California was unusually good this year, while a year ago the crop was a poor one.

Regarding pineapple shipments, Longley says they are going along well as far as the territorial market is concerned. Loss was experienced in but one shipment, that being due to inexperienced packing. The market is shipping no bananas, as the majority of the growers have contracts for shipments and only a few of the growers are independent.

A plentiful supply of eggs has been secured by the market, the price having gone lower this year than ever before, 7 cents.

A small farmer on windward Oahu has successfully experimented with the growing of celery and cauliflower. The process of bleaching the celery has not yet been perfected, however. Watermelons are plentiful and of better quality this year. They are selling according to size, the prices ranging from 25 to 75 cents. The market recently received a shipment of muskmelons, island grown, the first to come into the market. While the fruit was of good quality, it was a little undersized, due probably to the fact that the grower is experimenting.

Island Irish potatoes are in demand. Very few are being sent to Honolulu, however, and consequently there are few in the market. They can be sold on the other islands for as good a price as in Honolulu and at the same time the dealers save freight rates. Potatoes now are selling in Honolulu at $2 a hundred pounds.

The Haku Farmers' Association will make its first shipment of fresh fruit to the coast in the steamer Lurline. This will consist of 50 crates of pines. The shipment will be handled through the territorial market.

commission. The opium, he said, was to be divided among the Chinese who raised the $60.

The members of the grand jury for the April term have been notified to meet at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning, at which time they will be qualified and sworn. It was intimated in federal court circles today that between 15 and 20 opium cases will be investigated.

The members of the grand jury are James P. Lynch, Honolulu; Thomas H. Johnson, Honolulu; Thomas M. Mailey, Honolulu; Chang Chan, Lelehu; C. H. Cooke, Honolulu; August Keimann, Maui; John E. O'Conner, Honolulu; Allen M. Nowell, Honolulu; Henry Mikasobe, Honolulu; William E. Hooper, Honolulu; William G. Andrade, Honolulu; Walter Ackerman, Kealahou, Hawaii; George Edwards, Wailuku, Maui; Ernest G. Schmidt, Honolulu; William H. Friedly, Honolulu; Robert James Pratt, Honolulu; Zeno K. THAT DAM DOG STILL TOPIC OF CONVERSATION

[By Latest Mail]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Because the federal quarantine authorities in Honolulu are unable to see why they should discriminate in favor of the dam dog and allow it to get into the "Island Paradise" without first passing the customary four months' quarantine, Mrs. Everett S. Dam, wife of a wealthy Seattle mining man and government irrigation expert, is en route to Washington, D. C., where her husband is now battling with hard-hearted statesmen in an effort to have the island regulations overlooked for the dam dog's sake.

"I'll take the matter to the president himself if necessary," indignantly claimed Mrs. Dam on the steamer Wilhelmshafen, which arrived from the islands yesterday. "When I go back to Hawaii I am going to take Madja with me. The law is all bosh anyhow. Why, only four bulldogs have been quarantined in Honolulu in the last eighteen months, and none of them developed anything but a grinch. "When I get to Washington I will make those lawmakers do the things that my husband has been unable to make them do, and I'll get Madja into Honolulu if I have to go to the president."

Mrs. Dam, after a brief stay in San Francisco, will hurry to Seattle where the dam dog, which is causing all the uproar, is at present being cared for by a special valet. From the northern city she will proceed to Washington and promises interesting times in store for the lawmakers at the national capital who have charge of quarantine regulations.

Mrs. Dam has a reputation as an explorer and naturalist. For several years she lived in Alaska and while her husband was busy in mining ventures and investigations she was collecting specimens for the Smithsonian Institution. It is her intention to have a home in Honolulu, but her one ambition at present is to beat the quarantine men and have Madja show what a dam dog can do.—Examiner.

Monroe was given until April 13 to plead when arraigned before District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning.

BREWERY SEEKS TO WIN AUSTRALIAN MARKET

The European war has aroused among the people of Australia and New Zealand a patriotic prejudice against German brews and vinegars and even liquors bearing German names. As a direct result the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company has found an entirely new field opened to its product and Charles G. Bartlett, president and manager of the company, is leaving on the steamship Niagara on April 21 for the colonies to survey the field and place agencies.

SUPREME COURT TAKES HAWAII ELECTION CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

The supreme court has reserved temporarily its decision in the Hawaii county election suit, in which Arthur Akina seeks a writ of mandamus compelling County Clerk John Kai of the Big Island to place Akina's name on the ballot at the county election on May 4.

The court heard argument yesterday. Akina is one of three Republican candidates on West Hawaii for the office of supervisor from that side. Three supervisors are to be elected, or were until the recent county primary, when Julian Yates, Home Rule candidate, received a majority of the vote cast.

Attorney R. W. Breckons, representing Akina, has taken the position that Yates was not elected. He argues the primary law is weak, because under its provisions it was possible for the electors of West Hawaii to give a majority vote to four or five candidates, although only three offices are to be filled.

It is peculiar that Attorney-general Stainback, who appeared in opposition to Breckons yesterday, is the man who first discovered this unusual feature in the primary law. Stainback figured it out last summer as a mathematical proposition, that where three offices are to be filled and the number of voters is 10 or more it would be possible to give a majority vote to more than three candidates. It is understood that before the present legislature ends a bill will be prepared amending the primary law to remedy this defect. Regardless of what decision the supreme court may reach in the Akina case it is generally agreed among attorneys that the mathematical problem developed by Stainback and employed by Breckons yesterday is a mooted point bound to cause more or less trouble at almost every election, unless the law is made more definite.

KAMEHAMEHA SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE PLAY

Tomorrow night at 7:45 the sorrows and wailing of the life-long companion of man—namely, the dog—will be inflicted upon the patient public at Bishop hall, Kamehameha Schools.

The senior class of this institution, being desirous of letting out one last howl of joy before it embarks upon the rough seas of the "real world," have conjured up this "bit of classic literature," as they call it, and they promise to make "The Canine Mystery" a great play.

The play defies all classification. But maybe the title of "musical comedy" best fits it. Part of the proceeds of the entertainment will go to the athletic association, to which the whole senior class belongs. The music for the evening will be furnished by the 23 infantry orchestra, which has kindly offered their services to the cadets. The committee in charge of the entertainment consists of Cadet Major Shipman, Captain E. Fountain and G. Brandt, who have been working hard all week to make the evening a success.

The cast is as follows:
"Dutch" Einhauser, Geo. Brandt, Tracy, Ernest Fountain, "Buffy" Albert Mitchell, "Bill" Wm. Mahikoa, "Slim" Antone Correa.

PRINGLE CASE IS BACK IN ASHFORD'S COURT

Evidence was submitted in Circuit Judge Ashford's court yesterday afternoon in C. D. Pringle's suit against City and County Auditor Bicknell. Pringle seeks to compel Bicknell to deliver to him salary warrants for the months of December, January and February, the period during which Pringle served as second clerk in Circuit Judge Stuart's court. Bicknell has repeatedly refused on the ground that the clerk's appointment was not legal.

In the evidence which Attorney Lightfoot, Pringle's counsel, sought to introduce yesterday was the latter's $500 bond. The bond had been accepted as valid by Judge Stuart, but Attorney Milverton, representing Bicknell, disclosed the fact that the bond was for Pringle as "second clerk for the third circuit." The third circuit is Judge Matthewman's court, at Kailua, Hawaii. The bond therefore was declared void and the court declined to accept it as evidence.

The supreme court, on a reserved question submitted by Judge Ashford, already has ruled against Pringle. The hearing before Judge Ashford at present is on the petitioner's—Pringle's—traverse to the return and answer of the respondent, Bicknell. The hearing was not finished yesterday and was continued to 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Oceanic Lodge, No. 371, F. and A. M., special, first degree, tonight, at 7:30 o'clock.

PLANNING TRIPS OF ISLANDS FOR CONGRESS PARTY

Delegate Kuhio Elected Chairman of Joint Entertainment
Committee Now Complete

Delegate Kuhio today was elected chairman of the joint committee, including house and senate members, appointed to make arrangements for the visit of the congressional party to Hawaii. The members of the committee met with the governor and delegate in the governor's office at noon and spent an hour going over the preliminary plans and discussing a statement of tentative expenditures presented by Wade Warren Thayer, secretary of the territory.

A committee consisting of Mr. Thayer, Senator Cooke, Speaker Holstein of the house, Representative Colney and Senator Baldwin, was appointed by the delegate to arrange a tentative itinerary which will allow the members of the congressional party to spend a part of their time on Oahu, Maui, Hawaii and Kauai. The committee will meet at 9 o'clock Monday morning and at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning will report to the general committee at a meeting of that body in the governor's office.

Several brief addresses were made at the meeting, all urging that there be no delay in perfecting the plans. It is expected that much headway toward this end will be made Tuesday morning. It was reported that the chambers of commerce of Maui and Kauai, and the Hilo board of trade have offered their assistance in any way which the general committee may see fit.

Mr. Thayer's tentative statement of proposed expenditures was as follows: Fare for the party to Honolulu and return, 130 persons, $11,000; hotel expense, Honolulu, 130 persons, $5720; Inter-island Steamship Company, according to proposed itinerary, $7500; trip from Kailua to Hilo, 125 persons, $2500; Volcano House, $1100; Hilo hotel, $1280; Hilo railroad, $500; Maui trip, $2000; Kauai trip, $2000; entertainment and transportation in Honolulu, $500. This makes a total of $33,880. The Kauai chamber of commerce has notified Mr. Thayer that it will furnish 25 private automobiles and can rent 20 more.

Anticipating that the party will arrive in Honolulu May 3, Mr. Thayer's tentative itinerary is as follows: Spend Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Honolulu, leaving Wednesday evening for Kailua, spending Thursday, Friday and Saturday on Maui. Arrive at Kailua, Hawaii, Saturday morning, spending the morning in Kona. Arrive at the Volcano Saturday evening, spending Sunday there. Spend Monday and Tuesday in Hilo. Leave for Kauai, spending two or three days there. Then visit Maui for the same length of time. Return to Honolulu.

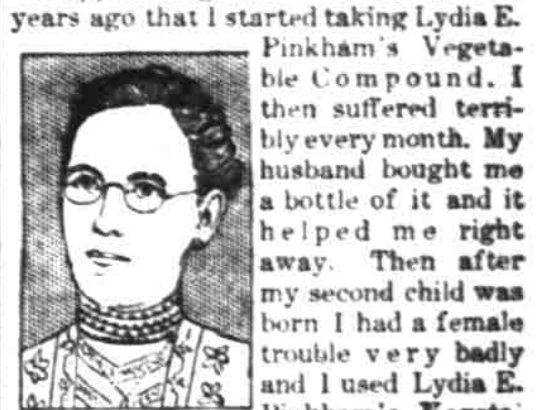

The members of the joint committee are as follows:
Senate—Speaker Chillingworth, Senators Cooke, Desha, Rice and Baldwin. House—Speaker Holstein, Representatives Goodness, Watkins, Coney and Huddy.

Why is POSTUM Replacing Coffee?

People are waking up to the harmful effects of the powerful drug—caffeine—in coffee, which poisons the system, often resulting in nervousness, heart flutter, headache, biliousness and many other ills and discomforts.

The pure food-drink, Postum, is absolutely drug-free—made only of the choicest wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses. It contains no caffeine or other harmful elements.

If you doubt that coffee hurts you, a sure test is to leave it off for 10 days and use Postum. It's an easy change, too, for Postum tastes much like the mild, high-grade Javas. As the coffee-drug is eliminated from your system, your own feelings will suggest Postum and better health.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled. Instant Postum—soluble form, made in the cup with hot water instantly.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.
